Homeless

There are many different definitions of homeless. In the context of the National Homelessness Initiative, homelessness is considered to be any person, family or household that has no fixed address or security of housing tenure.

Chronic Homelessness - refers to individuals who are currently homeless and have been homeless for six months or more in the past year

Episodic Homelessness - refers to individuals, who are currently homeless and have experienced three or more episodes of homelessness in the past year

Hidden Homelessness - refers to individuals who are homeless, but temporarily housed with friends or family because they cannot afford shelter themselves. Without this help, they would be living on the street or be sheltered by an institution.

Housing Resource Centre

Housing Resource Centres are usually non-profit agencies that provide information, resources and assistance, to help people find and keep housing, and avoid eviction. The services offered may vary by location, contact your local Housing Resource Centre to learn more.

Housing help services are available in most shelters and many drop-ins as well.

Services may include:

- Help completing applications for social housing
- Help with updating your existing application for social housing
 - Help with issues with current housing
 - Mediation between renters and landlords
- Assistance if you need to contact the Landlord Tenant Board (LTB)
- Financial assistance if you are behind on your rent or utilities

Emergency Shelters

These facilities are designed to meet the immediate needs of people who are homeless. Such short-term emergency shelters may target specific sub-populations, including women, families, youth or Indigenous persons, for instance.

These shelters typically have minimal eligibility criteria, offer shared sleeping facilities and amenities, and often expect clients to leave in the morning. They may or may not offer food, clothing or other services.

Transitional Housing

Transitional housing can be described as a temporary step between emergency and permanent housing. It is longer-term and often offers more support than emergency shelters but differs from supportive housing and many care homes because it is intended to be temporary.

Social Housing

(Also known as: Rent-Geared-to-Income or Subsidized Housing)

Rent-Geared-to-Income (RGI), or subsidized housing, is made available by the City of Brantford to make rent affordable for households. In most cases, the rent for a subsidized unit is 30 per cent of a household's total monthly income. If you receive social assistance the rent is based on the rent benefit set by the Ontario government.

Subsidized Housing

The City of Brantford helps with the application process and maintains the central waiting list for subsidized housing for social housing providers in Brant.

Subsidized housing is rent-geared-to-income or RGI housing which is based on 30% of a household's gross monthly income or if the household is receiving assistance from Ontario Works or the Ontario Disability Support Program, a social assistance rent scale is applied. Additional charges may apply depending on the building (i.e. parking/ utilities).

- The city is not a landlord and does not offer housing to applicants.
 - They can not predict or guess when you will be housed.
 - They do not provide emergency shelters or housing.

Social Housing Brantford

There is one central waiting list for social housing in Hamilton, that provides access to Rent-Geared-to-Income, Rental Benefit Program and the Canada Ontario Housing Benefit (COHB).

Rental Benefit Program	The Rent Benefit Program is a program providing subsidized rent in privately owned rental properties through an agreement with City of Brantford Housing Services. Some subsidized rents are provided through a rent supplement and some are provided as a portable housing benefit.
Canada Ontario Housing Benefit (COHB)	This portable housing benefit is a monthly subsidy provided to low-income households to assist with housing costs. It is tied to the household and can be used to help pay rent anywhere in Ontario.

Changes to Social Housing in Brant

The Province is making changes to Social Housing for applicants and tenants that will impact your housing application.

If you are on the centralized waiting list for Social Housing or you already live in social housing and are waiting to transfer into a different unit, the changes below will impact you.

As of January 1, 2021, all applicants on the Access to Housing centralized wait list for Rent-Geared-to-Income (RGI) housing subsidy assistance will only receive one (1) offer of housing.

This change will help people move into housing more quickly.

If you do not accept this offer, you may lose your place on the wait list and your application may be cancelled. Offers will not be counted if they constitute exceptional circumstances.

Any refusals before January 1, 2021 will not impact your eligibility.

If your application is cancelled, you will have to reapply and wait until your name reaches the top of the wait list again before receiving an offer. Cancellation from the wait list can be reviewed by the Social Housing Review Panel. The process for requesting a Review will be outlined in your cancellation letter.

Update your Information Yearly

Offers of housing are based on the building selections they have on file for you. Make sure you only select buildings you want to live in or would accept if offered. It is a good idea to review your information and building selections each year. If you are satisfied with your current building selections, you do not have to do anything.

To review or update your building selections, contact The Salvation Army Housing Resource Centre:

Housing Waitlist

The centralized waiting list is a modified-chronological housing wait list of all applicants eligible for rent-geared-to-income or RGI assistance in Hamilton. The list is maintained in compliance with the Housing Services Act, 2011 and approved local rules and standards.

Brant Access to Housing will process all completed applications for subsidized housing. If you are eligible, they will add you to the centralized waiting list. This waiting list is based on the date that you apply for housing. This means your name will be added to the waiting list for all the locations you noted on the Building Selection Form.

You will be offered housing when you are #1 on the waitlist through the Housing Provider that you selected. The staff at ATH cannot predict or guess when you will be housed. It will depend on the status your file was given, the date you applied for housing, and your housing selections.

A Non-Profit Landlord will contact you with an offer of accommodation. You will only receive one offer. If you refuse that offer of accommodation your application will be cancelled and you will have to reapply and start again at the beginning. You have the right to request a review of any cancelled application through Brant Access to Housing.

Please call Brant Access to Housing to report any changes of address, telephone number or who will be living with you. It is important that you keep your application up to date and that you respond quickly to requests for additional information. There is a time limit for responding.

If you want to make changes to your selection of housing choices, you can use this Applicant Information Update Form

Please do not call Brant's Access to Housing to ask when you will be offered housing. Non-Profit Landlords select applicants from the waiting list by date of application on a first come, first served basis. The only way you will move up on the waitlist is when applicants ahead of you on the list are offered housing.

If you have any questions, call Brant's Access to Housing at 519-759-4150

Canada-Ontario Housing Benefit (COHB)

The Canada-Ontario Housing Benefit (COHB) provides a direct, monthly benefit to eligible households to help pay their rent.

The benefit payments are portable, which means you may receive the benefits even when you move to another address & based on the household's income and local market rent.

The benefits are administered by the province through the Ministry of Finance and eligibility is assessed annually. Annual renewal applications are issued from the Province each May and must be returned by September 1st.

Clients who do not return their annual renewal by the deadline will no longer be eligible to receive assistance through the COHB program. Reinstatement into the program is not permitted

Following the annual review, the COHB amount may increase or decrease because of changes in residence, income and/or household size. The benefit amount is calculated according to the average local market rent of the area lived in.

The Salvation Army Housing Resource Centre (HRC) can assist eligible people with completing a referral to the COHB program.

In Brant, the application process is not open to the public.

Persons experiencing or at risk of homelessness, victims of abuse, indigenous persons; seniors; and people with disabilities have been identified as a priority group to receive this benefit.

COHB applicants must reside permanently in Ontario and be on, or eligible to be on, the Access to Housing Centralized Waiting List for Social Housing.

Program Guidelines

The benefit amount will depend on the household size and income.

The amount is calculated using a formula that includes household income, the number of people in the household and the local market rents.

To receive the COHB, applicants must agree to be removed from the Centralized Waiting List for social housing.

Households cannot receive COHB and Rent-Geared-to-Income (RGI) housing or any other form of housing benefit at the same time.

The Salvation Army Housing Resource Centre (HRC) can assist eligible people with completing a referral to the COHB program.

Co-operative Housing
Federation of Canada

Co-operative Housing

Housing co-operatives provide not-for-profit housing for their members. The members do not own equity in their housing. If they move, their home is returned to the co-op, to be offered to another individual or family who needs an affordable home.

Some co-op households pay a reduced monthly rent (housing charge) geared to their income. Government funds cover the difference between this payment and the co-op's full charge. Other households pay the full monthly charge based on cost. Because co-ops charge their members only enough to cover costs, repairs, and reserves, they can offer housing that is much more affordable than average private sector rental costs.

Co-op housing also offers security. Co-ops are controlled by their members who have a vote in decisions about their housing. There is no outside landlord. Each housing co-operative is a legal association, incorporated as a co-operative.

For more information about Co-operative Housing, locating your local co-ops, and learning about the application process, you can visit Co-operative Housing Federation of Canada or Golden Horseshoe Co-operative Housing Federation.

Affordable Rental Housing

In affordable rental housing, rent is usually set between 80% - 100% of Average Market Rent AMR (as determined by Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC), based on unit size).

Affordable rental housing can be in privately owned buildings, non-profits or city owned housing.

You can often stay on the Rent-Geared-to-Income waiting list if you accept a unit through the Affordable Rental Housing Program.

Things to Consider Before Renting a Unit

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS IN THE AD

Some landlords/property managers prefer calls, some use email or the messaging system through the ad site (such as Kijiji messaging). Many ads also ask very specific questions to assess applicants.

CALLING THE LANDLORD

Prepare your list of questions before you call and keep a pen and paper handy to write down the answers. There are probably others who are interested in the rental, remember to be polite and make a great first impression.

VIEWING THE RENTAL UNIT

Arrive on time and be well-groomed and well prepared. Introduce yourself and try to remain calm and confident. Have your references ready to provide to the landlord/property manager.

PREPARE YOUR DOCUMENTS

To support your rental application, landlords/property manager may ask to see your driver's license or other ID. They may ask where you work, and permission to run a credit check. There are rules about your privacy that must be respected.

APPLYING FOR THE RENTAL

Make sure you understand the application process, ask questions if something isn't clear. Fill in the application form (paper copy/online). Inquire about the deposit fees and next steps.

SIGNING THE LEASE

A successful applicant will be asked to sign a lease. Upon signing you will usually be required to pay last month's rent. Then first month's rent is due on the 1st day of the month you've rented the apartment for (make sure to get receipts).
